THIS IS YOUR BIG CHANCE TO BE A MEMBER OF THE NEXT EXCITING START-UP!

This position is for post-secondary graduates. Since it is partially funded by federal grants there is a requirement to have a PR/Citizenship.

Are you a Full-stack mobile developer? We are looking just for you to join us in our journey to develop a revolutionary platform and be a part of one of the most notable startups in Vancouver and in the west coast, under the umbrella of the Founder Institute accelerator (website: fi.co).

Details on the product can be found at newsly.me

The company has 5 joint ventures in universities like UBC and others in both Canada and the US both east coast and west coast.

Responsibilities

- Being able to define from scratch new feature for existing mobile app on IOS and Android
- Ensuring the best performance and user experience of the application
- Fixing bugs and performance problems
- Writing clean, readable, and testable code
- Being able to write basic tests for the code
- Being able to write the back-end side if needed and work with a design that is built from a template

Requirements:

Must have:

- Python Savvy!
- React native experience
- AWS hand-on experience in real projects
- Being able to work as part of a large group

Good to have:

- In-depth knowledge of Node.js
- Experience in mobile app development. This includes the whole process, from the first line of code to publishing in the stores
- Knowledge in developing in JavaScript
- Experience with database SQL and no-SQL
- Other cloud service experience
Experience with Git
Familiarity with JSON
Web development

Must have strong communication, self-motivation, time management and teamwork skills.

The employee will report directly to the company CEO.

Please submit resume, transcript to jobs@newsly.me

Web: newsly.me
LinkedIn: https://www.linkedin.com/company/newslymeapp
YouTube: newsly on youtube
Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada